

URBAN GREENING

- Towards Carbon Neutral Buildings and Districts

CONFERENCE

3 November 2008 at 09.00 - 16.45

University of Copenhagen,
The Ceremonial Hall, Frue Plads, Copenhagen

The University of Copenhagen and the City of Copenhagen are hosting a series of conferences on carbon neutral buildings and city districts.

This first conference will shed light on experiences, problems and barriers and promote discussions about what we understand by carbon neutral buildings and city districts. The outcome will be 10 concrete proposals on how to promote carbon neutral buildings and city districts in the future.

The conference includes international as well as Danish speakers and will be conducted in English. Among the speakers are:

DIRECTOR STEPHEN HAMMER

Urban Energy Project at Columbia University

DIRECTOR CHRIS TWINN

Building engineering Sustainability Group, Arup International

PROFESSOR KATHERINE RICHARDSON

Chairman of The Danish Commission on Climate Change Policy

Moderator: STEFFEN KRETZ

Climate Correspondent, Danish Broadcasting Corporation, News.

The conference is free and open for registration. For programme, info and registration go to: www.climate.ku.dk/urbangreening

We hope to see you in November.
